

-----
Title: a leaflet

Author:
-----

*****

Paladins Of The Virtues

*****

Loyal to the Government
Britannia,
And her peoples.
Salutations gentle reader, Let me be as plain as day...

If your heart knows of Virtue, and your soul aches to share it, if your mind seeks a place to learn, and your body
a place to call home, then read on...

A Paladin knows his place, his purpose. He knows what is good and he knows that of evil. A Paladin strives to teach the ways of Virtue, and live by them himself. A Paladin's heart is one with the many, and is many to the one. Our place is that of The Hall of Paladins, and our purpose, to serve Virtue itself. My friend it is the Virtues that need guide us in all we do. It is the Virtues that strengthen our very being,
and it is the Virtues to which we endeavor to teach and abide in our lives.

The Paladins of The Virtues, seek those true to this service of self. Those taking on such a path are encouraged through fellow-men to pursue a life of ministration. An existence their own enhanced by their brethren, through times of service to our King and his appointment.

Paladins are urged to put their talents to use, in spreading the Virtues.

An invitation to those seeking more information:

You will find contact information should you have an interest in this path of light on the following pages. Be well.